Other requirements:

- Sound engineer provided by venue
- Decent monitoring system - Lead vocals and kik in the front, the rest we work out during soundcheck. Usually stage left guitar to stage right monitor, and vice versa, then some lead vox and maybe guitars to the rhythm guys.
- No smoke or crazy lazer light show. Just "boring" clear lights so we can see each other and what we're doing. No red, thanks.
- No echos, reverbs, fx... Maybe a little 120-150ms rockabilly slapback echo on lead vox, but otherwise as dry as possible thank you
